How to lodge a bond

Lodging a bond on a non-approved form may result in the lodgement being delayed or rejected. This form and all other approved bond related forms are available for download from the our website www.commerce.wa.gov.au/bondforms

Forms

To lodge a bond, you must complete all the relevant sections of the Lodgement of Security Bond Money form.

Amount for a residential tenancy bond

The bond must not be more than four times the weekly rent unless the weekly rent is more than an amount set by the Regulations.

If the tenant is permitted to keep pets that are capable of carrying parasites that can affect humans, the pet bond must not be more than $260. You are not permitted to charge a pet bond for a guide dog.

Amount for a residential parks long-stay tenancy bond

The security bond must not be more than four times the weekly rent.

A long-stay security access bond of no more than $100 may be required for keys, remote control entry devices or other security devices.

A pet bond of no more than $100 may be required if the tenant is permitted to keep a cat or a dog on the premises.

Collecting rent on a calendar month basis

To determine four weeks rent, first calculate the equivalent weekly rental amount; one month rent multiplied by 12 and then divided by 52. Then multiply this equivalent weekly rental amount by four to get the maximum amount that can be lodged as a security bond.

For example,

If the rent is $1,625 per month.

$$1,625 \times 12 \text{ months} = $19,500 \text{ per year}$

$$19,500 / 52 = \375 per week

Maximum bond = $4 \times $375 = $1,500$.

Do not collect the equivalent of a calendar month's rent as security. This would be greater than four weeks rent and would be in breach of section 29 of the Residential Tenancies Act 1987 or section 21 of the Residential Parks (Long-stay Tenants) Act 2006.

How to claim a bond

Forms

You will need to submit a completed Joint Application for Disposal of Security Bond form to the bond administrator. For detailed information on disposing of a security bond, please see www.commerce.wa.gov.au/bonddisposal

It is important that the signatures on the disposal form match those on the lodgement form. Failure to properly complete a disposal form will result in delays in the return of funds.

Alterations and additions to a disposal form

The names of the parties who are to receive money back can be changed and the amounts to be paid to them can be altered, but these changes must be verified by signatures of the affected parties at the site of the change, or by way of a signed note that clearly states that they will agree to the precise details of the change.

Submitting the disposal form

You should forward the correctly completed form to the Bond Administrator at the Department of Mines, Industry Regulation and Safety.
