

WA award summary

Building Trades (Construction) Award

1 July 2023

About this award summary

This document is a summary of the state Building Trades (Construction) Award. WA awards are legal documents that outline the pay rates, allowances, working hours, and leave entitlements for employees in a particular industry or type of work.

Complying with the provisions of a WA award is compulsory and all employers who are covered by this WA award must provide employees with the pay rates and employment entitlements in the WA award, as outlined in this award summary and in the full award as a minimum. Potential penalties for employers who do not meet WA award requirements are detailed on page 2.

This WA award summary is a summary only and does not include all obligations required by the award. It is important to also refer to the full Building Trades (Construction) Award that is available on the Western Australian Industrial Relations Commission website www.wairc.wa.gov.au. Provisions of other employment legislation also apply to employees and have been included in this WA award summary where appropriate. Reference should also be made to the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993 (MCE Act), the Long Service Leave Act 1958 (LSL Act), and the Industrial Relations Act 1979 (IR Act) for full details.

This document is formatted for viewing on the Wageline website and contains web links to other relevant information. If using a printed copy in which links are not visible, all additional information can be found at www.dmirs.wa.gov.au/wageline or by contacting Wageline on 1300 655 266.

Disclaimer

The Department of Mines, Industry Regulation and Safety has prepared this WA award summary to provide information on pay rates and major award provisions. It is provided as a general guide only and is not designed to be comprehensive or to provide legal advice. The department does not accept liability for any claim which may arise from any person acting on, or refraining from acting on, this information.

Industrial inspectors at the Department of Mines, Industry Regulation and Safety have powers under the IR Act to investigate employee complaints about underpayments of pay rates and leave entitlements under this WA award and state employment laws. Industrial inspectors also undertake regular proactive compliance audits in particular industries to determine if employers are paying correct wages and keeping correct employment records.

The penalty for contravening a provision of a WA award or not complying with a requirement relating to employment records is up to $13,000 for individuals and $65,000 for bodies corporate. Higher penalties apply for serious contraventions of up to $130,000 for individuals and $650,000 for bodies corporate. An industrial inspector is also able to give a person a civil infringement notice, similar to an 'on-the-spot fine', for not complying with employment record-related requirements. Record keeping requirements are outlined in the Employment records section.

Employees who believe that they have been underpaid, or who wish to make an anonymous report of wage theft, should visit the Making a complaint about underpayment of wages or entitlements page.

- An employer is required to pay an apprentice for the time spent at TAFE (or other off the job training) as normal working hours. An employer is not required to pay TAFE fees on behalf of the apprentice.
- If the apprentice is a high school student undertaking a school based apprenticeship they must be paid the relevant hourly rate for the year of their apprenticeship for:
 - all hours spent working on the job; plus
 - hours spent in off the job training (deemed to be 25% of actual hours worked each week).
- Visit the Pay rates for apprentices page for more information

Tool allowance for apprentices

Apprenticeship trade	Weekly allowance
Carpenters, Joiners, Plumbers, Gasfitters, Stonemasons, Stoneworkers	$31.00
Plasterers, Wall and Floor Tilers	$25.60
Bricklayers	$21.90
Roof Tile Fixers	$16.00
Sign writers, Painters, Glaziers	$7.50

An employer may, (by agreement with the apprentice's parent or guardian if the apprentice is under 18), elect to provide the apprentice with a kit of tools and, subject to establishing the value of the tools at the time of so providing, deduct the tool allowance until the cost of the tools is reimbursed. An employer must pay the tool allowance after the cost of the tools has been reimbursed.

Junior employees (under 21 years old)

- Junior employees (except apprentices) cannot be employed on any work which would be performed by an adult employee unless the consent of the union is obtained first in each case. If any junior employee is so employed the employee must be paid the appropriate adult rate of pay.
- If any junior employee (who is not an apprentice or probationary apprentice) is employed on work for which an apprenticeship is provided then the junior employee must be paid the appropriate adult rate of pay.
- Junior employees may be employed as roof tile fixers in the proportion of 2 juniors to 1 adult employee and specific rates of pay for junior roof tile fixers are detailed in Clause 45 of the Building Trades (Construction) Award available on the WA Industrial Relations Commission website www.wairc.wa.gov.au

Registered Trainees

- Registered trainees are employees who are undertaking a traineeship registered with the Apprenticeship Office at the Department of Training and Workforce Development. Traineeships can be undertaken on a full time, part time or school-based basis.
- Adult or junior employees undertaking a registered traineeship in the building industry are not covered by the Building Trades (Construction) Award as there is no job classification for registered trainees under this award, and therefore registered trainees in this industry are award free.
- Visit the Pay rates for trainees page for wage rates for award free full time, part time and school based registered trainees.
- An employer is required to pay a registered trainee for time spent at TAFE (or other off the job training) as normal working hours. An employer is not required to pay TAFE fees on behalf of the registered trainee.
- Registered trainees in this industry are entitled to annual leave, personal leave and other leave and employment entitlements that apply to award free employees while undertaking a traineeship.

Allowances

Tool allowance

Tool allowance is always payable to tradespersons and apprentices. Tool allowance is included in the tradesperson rates listed on page 3 and detailed in the Tool allowance for apprentices table on the previous page.

Meal allowance

An employee who works at least one and a half hours or more of overtime after working ordinary hours must receive a meal allowance of $14.70 to meet the cost of a meal.

Fares and travelling allowance

Plumbing – Plumbers and plumbing apprentices receive the following daily allowances:

- Reporting and ceasing work at site using own transport - $10.80 + ¼ Hours' Pay.
- Reporting and ceasing work at site using employer's transport - ¼ Hours' Pay.
- Reporting and ceasing work at yard or depot - Nil.

Additional allowances apply for travel beyond 50kms from the local post office and transport during working hours. Please see clause 12B of the Building Trades (Construction) Award on the WA Industrial Relations Commission website www.wairc.wa.gov.au

Other trades and labourers

- All tradespeople (except plumbers) and labourers receive a travel allowance of $16.55 per day on any day on which the employee works or reports for work, except where the employer picks up the employee from their home and returns them to their home at the conclusion of work.
- All apprentices (except plumbers) receive a percentage of this allowance except where the employer picks up the apprentice from their home and returns them to their home at the conclusion of work:
 - First year apprentices - $12.40 (75% of travel allowance)
 - Second year apprentices - $14.05 (85% of travel allowance)
 - Third year apprentices - $14.90 (90% of travel allowance)
 - Fourth year apprentices - $15.70 (95% of travel allowance)

Additional allowances apply for travel beyond 50kms from the local post office and transport during working hours. Please see clause 12A of the Building Trades (Construction) Award on the WA Industrial Relations Commission website www.wairc.wa.gov.au

Inclement weather

If employees cannot work due to rain or extreme temperatures or abnormal climatic conditions, they are entitled to be paid for the ordinary time lost. This entitlement is capped at 32 hours per four week period. Refer to Clause 19 of the Building Trades (Construction) Award, available on the WA Industrial Relations Commission website www.wairc.wa.gov.au

Insulation allowance

An employee handling charcoal, pumice, granulated cork, silicate of cotton, insulwool, slag wool, limpet fibre, vermiculite or other recognised insulating material of a like nature or working in the immediate vicinity so as to be affected by the use thereof must be paid 82 cents per hour or part thereof.

Leading hand allowance

A person specifically appointed to be a leading hand must be paid at the rate of the undermentioned additional amounts above the rate of the highest classification supervised, or their own rate, whichever is the highest, in accordance with the number of persons in their charge:

Leading hand allowance	Weekly	Hourly
In charge of not more than one person	$25.00	$0.67
In charge of two and not more than five persons	$42.10	$1.14
In charge of six and not more than ten persons	$53.40	$1.44
In charge of more than ten persons	$71.20	$1.93

Location allowance for employees in regional areas

- Employees employed in certain regional towns must be paid the weekly location allowance relevant to that town. Rates listed below are for adult employees working full time. Junior employees, casual employees, part time employees, apprentices and trainees must be paid proportionate location allowance based on the proportion which their weekly wage is to the adult rate under the WA award.
- If an employee has a dependant (a spouse or partner, or a child if there is no spouse or partner) the employee is entitled to receive double the allowance specified for the relevant town except if the dependant also receives a location or district allowance payment as part of their own employment.
- If an employee has a 'partial dependant' (a dependant who receives a district or location allowance of their own which is less than the location allowance the employee is entitled to under this award) the employee is entitled to receive:
 - the relevant location allowance for the employee's town; plus
 - an amount equal to the difference between the employee's location allowance and the amount their partial dependant receives in district or location allowance.
- If an employee receives free board and lodging, or is paid an allowance for board and lodging, the rate of location allowance is adjusted to 66.67% (two thirds) of the rate for the relevant town.

Explosive powered tools allowance

An operator of explosive powered tools, as defined in the award, who is required to use an explosive powered tool, must be paid $1.65 for each day on which they use such a tool.

Heavy blocks allowance

Employees lifting other than standard bricks - an employee required to lift blocks (other than concrete blocks for plugging purposes) must be paid the following additional rates:

- Where the blocks weigh over 5.5kg and under 9kg - 67 cents per hour.
- Where the blocks weigh 9kg or over and up to 18kg - $1.20 per hour.
- Where the blocks weigh over 18kg - $1.70 per hour.

Other allowances

The Building Trades (Construction) Award contains a range of other allowances which apply to specific working arrangements. Please view the award on the WA Industrial Relations Commission website www.wairc.wa.gov.au

Ordinary working hours, penalty rates and overtime – full time employees

Ordinary hours of work

The ordinary hours for full time employees are as follows:

- 38 per week to be worked in accordance with the following provisions for a four week work cycle.
- Worked in a 20 day four week cycle, on 19 days of 8 hours each, between the hours of 7.00am and 6.00pm, Monday to Friday, with 0.4 of one hour on each day worked accruing as an entitlement to take the fourth Monday in each cycle as a day off paid for as though worked.

Note: Ordinary hours of work may commence at 6.00am Monday to Friday where agreement is reached between the employer and employees. For further information refer to Clause 13 (3) of the award on the WA Industrial Relations Commission website www.wairc.wa.gov.au

Meal breaks

- Employees must receive a paid ten minute rest break between 9.00am and 11.00am and an unpaid lunch break of at least 30 minutes between 12.00pm and 1.00pm. If an employee does not receive their lunch break, they are paid double time until the lunch break is granted.
- Additional breaks apply when an employee works overtime. Visit the WA Industrial Relations Commission website www.wairc.wa.gov.au

Deductions from pay

- An employer may only make a deduction from an employee's pay if:
 - the employer is required by a court or a state or federal law to make the deduction (e.g. tax that must be withheld from the employee's pay);
 - the employee has authorised the deduction in writing (as part of a written employment contract or otherwise) and the deduction is paid on behalf of the employee; or
 - the employer is authorised by the WA award to make the deduction and the deduction is paid on behalf of the employee.
- Deductions or requirements to pay an amount of money to the employer or another person in relation to an employee under the age of 18 are not permitted unless the deduction or payment is agreed to in writing by the employee's parent or guardian.
- A term of a WA award or employment contract providing for a deduction from an employee's pay will be of no effect if it is for the benefit of the employer or a party related to the employer and is unreasonable in the circumstances.
- An employer cannot directly or indirectly compel an employee to access goods, accommodation or other services instead of money as part of the employee's pay.

Employment of children

- Under the Children and Community Services Act 2004, it is illegal to employ children under the age of 15 in this industry, except if the child is working as part of a school program (e.g. work experience placement) or in a family business.
- Children who are school aged must not be employed in school hours, unless participating in a school program.
- Visit the When children can work in Western Australia page for more information.

Public holidays

- Full time employees are entitled to public holidays (or days substituted for public holidays) without deduction of pay. If a public holiday (except Easter Sunday) falls on a Saturday or Sunday, the following Monday will be considered to be the public holiday. If Boxing Day falls on a Sunday or Monday, the following Tuesday will be considered to be the public holiday.
- When a public holiday is substituted with another day, the public holiday itself is no longer considered a public holiday for the purposes of the WA award.
- The Easter Sunday public holiday is observed on the actual day, and it is not substituted to another day solely because it falls on a weekend. Employees required to work on Easter Sunday must be paid at public holiday penalty rates. Visit the Easter Sunday public holiday page for more information.
- If an employee works on a public holiday or substituted public holiday, they must receive at least four hours' pay, even if they work fewer hours. In addition, hours worked on a public holiday or substituted holiday must be paid at the rate of double time and a half.
- Visit the Public Holidays in Western Australia page to view the public holiday dates.

Leave entitlements

Quick reference guide

Leave entitlement	Full time	Casual
Annual leave	✓	✗
Personal leave	✓	✗
Unpaid personal leave for caring purposes	✓	✓
Bereavement leave	✓	✓
Unpaid parental leave	✓	✓
Long service leave	✓	✓
Unpaid family and domestic violence leave	✓	✓

This WA award summary covers the basic leave entitlements for employees covered by the Building Trades (Construction) Award but does not include all details on leave obligations and entitlements. Full details of conditions are contained in the Building Trades (Construction) Award on the WA Industrial Relations Commission website, the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993 and the Construction Industry Portable Paid Long Service Leave Act 1985.

Long service leave

Employees who work on site in the construction industry have access to a portable long service leave scheme funded by a compulsory levy on employers. Visit www.myleave.wa.gov.au for more information.

Bereavement leave

- All employees, including casual employees, are entitled to two days paid bereavement leave on the death of a spouse, de facto partner, parent, step-parent, grandparent, child, step-child, grandchild, sibling or any other member of the employee's household. The two days need not be consecutive.
- Bereavement leave is a minimum entitlement from the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993.

Parental leave

Employees, including eligible casual employees, are entitled to the unpaid parental leave entitlements in the National Employment Standards of the Fair Work Act 2009, as well as a number of more beneficial conditions contained in the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993 (a return to work after parental leave on a modified basis and a reversion to pre-parental leave working conditions). Visit the Parental leave page for more details.

Personal leave

- Personal leave entitles a full time employee to paid time off work due to either illness or injury to themselves, or because they have to care for a member of their family or household who requires care or support because they are sick, injured or affected by an unexpected emergency.
- Each year, full time employees accrue paid personal leave equal to the number of hours they would ordinarily work in a two week period, up to 80 hours per year. Personal leave is a cumulative entitlement, and any leave not taken in one year is carried over and able to be taken in future years.
- Under this award, paid personal leave is granted to employees as follows:
 - In the employee's first year of employment – an employee is credited with one day of personal leave at the beginning of each of the first 10 calendar months.
 - In the second and subsequent years of employment – an employee is credited with a further 80 hours of personal leave on the anniversary of their engagement.
- An employee, including a casual employee, is entitled to up to two days of unpaid personal leave per occasion when a member of the employee's family or household requires care or support because of a personal illness or injury or unexpected emergency affecting the member. A full time employee cannot take unpaid personal leave for caring purposes if they have paid personal leave available.
- Casual employees are not entitled to paid personal leave. Casual employees can access up to two days of unpaid personal leave for caring purposes per occasion.
- Personal leave is a minimum entitlement from the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993.
- Visit Wageline's Personal leave page for definitions of 'member of the family or household' or for more information.

Annual leave

- Full time employees are entitled to a minimum of four weeks of paid annual leave for each year of completed service, up to 152 hours. Casual employees are not entitled to annual leave.
- Annual leave is a minimum entitlement in the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993 and the Building Trades (Construction) Award sets out additional requirements regarding annual leave and annual leave loading.
- During a period of annual leave an employee must be paid annual leave loading of 17.5%.
- Annual leave loading is payable on any unused annual leave paid out on lawful termination.
- Annual leave accrues on a weekly basis:
 - A full time employee accrues 2.923 hours of annual leave for each completed week of work.
 - Wageline's Annual leave calculation guide can assist with calculating annual leave entitlements.
- Visit Wageline's Annual leave page for more information.
- Where an employee has worked five working days or more and either resigns or is terminated by the employer the employee must be paid one twelfth of a week's wages for each completed five working days of continuous service with their current employer for which leave has not yet been granted.

Family and domestic violence leave

- All employees are entitled to five days' unpaid family and domestic violence leave in each 12 month period. This leave is available in full at the start of each 12 month period of an employee's employment and does not accumulate from year to year. The five days' leave is available in full to casual employees (i.e. it is not pro rata).
- An employee is able to take unpaid family and domestic violence leave if:
 - the employee is experiencing family and domestic violence; and
 - the employee needs to do something to deal with the impact of the family and domestic violence; and
 - it is impractical for the employee to do that thing outside the employee's ordinary hours of work.
- Leave can be taken in a single continuous five day period, separate periods of one or more days each, or periods of less than one day.
- Family and domestic violence leave is a minimum entitlement from the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993.
- Visit Wageline's Family and domestic violence leave page for more information.

Resignation, termination and redundancy

Resignation by the employee

An employee can resign by giving one day's notice.

Termination

For apprentices, an employer must contact the Department of Training and Workforce Development Apprenticeship Office on 13 19 54 to discuss any proposed termination of an apprentice.

Except in cases of serious misconduct, full time employees in regular ongoing employment may be terminated by the employer giving the employee the following period of notice (or payment in lieu):

Period of continuous service	Notice period
Not more than 1 year	1 week
More than 1 year but not more than 3 years*	2 weeks
More than 3 years but not more than 5 years*	3 weeks
More than 5 years*	4 weeks

*Employees over 45 years of age with two or more years of continuous service must receive an additional week's notice.

Payment for public holidays on termination

If a public holiday falls within ten consecutive days after an employee is terminated by an employer except for reasons of misconduct or incompetency, the employee is entitled to be paid a days' ordinary pay for that public holiday.

Where two or more public holidays occur within a seven day span, they are regarded as a group of public holidays. If the first of the group falls within ten consecutive days after termination, the whole group of holidays is deemed to fall within the ten consecutive days, and the employee is entitled to ordinary wages for each public holiday. Christmas Day, Boxing Day and New Year's Day are also regarded as a group.

Dismissal requirements

Under state laws, employees cannot be dismissed if to do so would be harsh, unfair or oppressive. There must be a valid and fair reason for dismissal, such as:

- consistent unsatisfactory work performance (which has been raised with the employee and the employee given further training and an opportunity to improve their work performance);
- inappropriate behaviour or actions; or
- serious misconduct.

The Dismissal information page outlines obligations and requirements when an employee is terminated.

Redundancy

An employee is redundant when their employer has made a definite decision that they no longer wish the job the employee has been doing to be done by anyone.

When an employee has been made redundant they are entitled to receive:

- the appropriate notice period or pay in lieu of notice, as outlined above in the termination section;
- paid leave for job interviews;
- any unpaid wages;
- any unused accrued and pro rata annual leave;
- any unused accrued long service leave;
- pro rata long service leave (if applicable); and
- severance pay (if applicable).

Visit the Redundancy – General information page for information on redundancy obligations.

Award severance pay – Employers who employ less than 15 employees

If an employee is terminated by the employer for any reason other than misconduct or refusal of duty, the following award severance payments must be paid to the employee:

Period of continuous service*	Award severance pay
Less than 12 months	1.75 hours' pay per completed week of service
1 year but less than 2 years	2.4 weeks' pay plus, for all service in excess of 1 year, 1.75 hours' pay per completed week of service up to a maximum of 4.8 weeks' pay
2 years but less than 3 years	4.8 weeks' pay plus, for all service in excess of 2 years, 1.6 hours' pay per completed week of service up to a maximum of 7 weeks' pay
3 years but less than 4 years	7 weeks' pay plus, for all service in excess of 3 years, 0.73 hours' pay per completed week of service up to a maximum of 8 weeks' pay

*An employee's period of continuous service includes any service with that business under a previous employer where there has been a transmission of business.

Any period of service as a casual does not count as continuous service for the purposes of severance.

Redundancy pay is calculated based on the applicable number of weeks' severance multiplied by ordinary time earnings. Ordinary time earnings excludes overtime, penalty rates, and allowances.

If the employee resigns during the notice period, they are entitled to the same severance pay they would receive if they had worked until the end of the notice period. However, in this circumstance the employee is not entitled to payment in lieu of notice.

Visit the Redundancy payments page for more information on redundancy payments.

Severance pay – Employers who employ 15 or more employees

Employers covered the Building Trades (Construction) Award who employ 15 or more employees must pay the award severance pay detailed above or the severance pay outlined below based on whichever provides the greater entitlement to the employee.

The severance payments outlined below are only applicable if the employer has made the employee redundant because the employer has made a definite decision that the employer no longer wishes the job the employee has been doing done by anyone. If an employee is terminated by the employer for reasons other than redundancy, the severance payments below are not applicable. However, the award severance payments detailed above may still be applicable (refer to the information regarding the award severance payments in the above table).

The severance payments outlined below do not apply to probationary employees, apprentices and trainees, casual and contract employees or employees terminated due to serious misconduct or for other reasons not related to redundancy. However, the award severance payments detailed above may still be applicable (refer to the information regarding the award severance payments in the above table).

Period of continuous service*	Number of weeks severance pay
Less than 1 year	Nil
1 year and less than 2 years	4 weeks
2 years and less than 3 years	6 weeks
3 years and less than 4 years	7 weeks
4 years and less than 5 years	8 weeks
5 years and less than 6 years	10 weeks
6 years and less than 7 years	11 weeks
7 years and less than 8 years	13 weeks
8 years and less than 9 years	14 weeks
9 years and less than 10 years	16 weeks
10 years and over	12 weeks

*An employee's period of continuous service includes any service with that business under a previous employer where there has been a transmission of business.

Redundancy pay is calculated based on the applicable number of weeks' severance multiplied by ordinary time earnings. Ordinary time earnings excludes overtime, penalty rates, and allowances.

If the employee resigns during the notice period, they are entitled to the same severance pay they would receive if they had worked until the end of the notice period. However, in this circumstance the employee is not entitled to payment in lieu of notice.

Pay slip and record keeping requirements

Employers must provide all employees with a pay slip, and must keep employment records as required by state employment law. There are penalties for not keeping records and not providing a pay slip.

Pay slips

Employers need to provide a pay slip to each employee within one working day of paying the employee for work performed. The employer can decide whether to give a hard copy or electronic form of the pay slip.

A pay slip needs to include the following information:

- the employer's name and Australian Business Number (if any);
- the employee's name;
- the period to which the pay slip relates;
- the date on which the payment referred to in the pay slip was made;
- the gross and net amounts of the payment, and any amount withheld as tax;
- any incentive based payment, or payment of a bonus, loading, penalty rates or another monetary allowance or separately identifiable entitlement;
- if an amount is deducted from the gross amount of the payment:
 - the name of the person in relation to whom or which the deduction was made;
 - if the deduction was paid into a fund or account - the name, or the name and number, of the fund or account; and
 - the purpose of the deduction;
- if the employee is paid at an hourly rate of pay:
 - the rate of pay for the employee's ordinary hours;
 - the number of hours worked during the period to which the pay slip relates; and
 - the amount of the payment made at that rate;
- if the employee is paid a weekly or an annual rate of pay - the rate as at the latest date to which the payment relates;

- if the employer is required to make superannuation contributions for the benefit of the employee:
 - the amount of each contribution that the employer made during the period to which the pay slip relates and the name, or the name and number, of any fund to which the contribution was made; or
 - the amounts of the contributions that the employer is liable to make in relation to the period to which the pay slip relates, and the name, or the name and number, of any fund to which the contributions will be made.

Employment records

Record keeping requirements

It is compulsory for all employers to keep employment records which include the following information:

- the employee's name and, if under 21 years of age, their date of birth;
- the employer's name and Australian Business Number (if any);
- the name of the WA award that applies (in this case the Building Trades (Construction) Award);
- date the employee commenced employment with the employer;
- for each day of work:
 - the time at which the employee started and finished work;
 - period/s for which the employee was paid; and
 - details of work breaks including meal breaks;
- for each pay period:
 - the employee's designation (such as full time or casual) and employee classification;
 - the gross and net amounts paid to the employee;
 - any amount withheld as tax; and
 - all deductions from pay and the reasons for them;
- any incentive based payment, bonus, loading, penalty rates or other monetary allowance or entitlement;
- all leave taken, whether paid, partly paid or unpaid;
- the following matters relating to superannuation:
 - the date on which each superannuation contribution was made, the amount of the contributions, the period over which the contributions were made, the name of any fund to which a contribution was made;
 - how the employer worked out the amount of superannuation owed; and
 - any choice made by the employee as to which fund their contributions are to be made and the date on which the choice was made;
- the information necessary for the calculation of and payment of long service leave under the LSL Act. Employers are also be required to comply with the record keeping requirements in the LSL Act. Visit www.dmirs.wa.gov.au/longserviceleave for details;
- any other information necessary to show that the pay and benefits received by the employee comply with the WA award and other legal obligations such as employee entitlements under the MCE Act or LSL Act; and
- any other information required by the WA award to be recorded.

It is also compulsory to keep employment records that detail specific information regarding:

- termination related matters; and
- any supported wage system or a supported wage industrial instrument provision that applies to an employee with a disability.

If an employer makes a payment to an employee in cash, the employer must provide a record of the payment to the employee and ensure that a copy of the record of payment is kept as an employment record.

Wageline's Employment records - Employer obligations page provides more information and record keeping templates to assist employers.

Time periods for keeping records

It is compulsory that each entry in relation to annual leave and long service leave must be retained during the employee's period of employment and for not less than 7 years after the employment ends and each other employment record must be retained for not less than 7 years after it is made.
