

WA award summary

Transport Workers (General) Award

1 July 2023

About this award summary

This document is a summary of the state Transport Workers (General) Award. WA awards are legal documents that outline the pay rates, allowances, working hours, and leave entitlements for employees in a particular industry or type of work.

Complying with the provisions of a WA award is compulsory and all employers who are covered by this WA award must provide employees with the pay rates and employment entitlements in the WA award, as outlined in this award summary and in the full award as a minimum. Potential penalties for employers who do not meet WA award requirements are detailed on page 2.

This WA award summary is a summary only and does not include all obligations required by the award. It is important to also refer to the full Transport Workers (General) Award that is available on the Western Australian Industrial Relations Commission website www.wairc.wa.gov.au. Provisions of other employment legislation also apply to employees and have been included in this WA award summary where appropriate. Reference should also be made to the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993 (MCE Act), the Long Service Leave Act 1958 (LSL Act), and the Industrial Relations Act 1979 (IR Act) for full details.

This document is formatted for viewing on the Wageline website and contains web links to other relevant information. If using a printed copy in which links are not visible, all additional information can be found at www.dmirs.wa.gov.au/wageline or by contacting Wageline on 1300 655 266.

Industrial inspectors at the Department of Mines, Industry Regulation and Safety have powers under the IR Act to investigate employee complaints about underpayments of pay rates and leave entitlements under this WA award and state employment laws. Industrial inspectors also undertake regular proactive compliance audits in particular industries to determine if employers are paying correct wages and keeping correct employment records.

The penalty for contravening a provision of a WA award or not complying with a requirement relating to employment records is up to $13,000 for individuals and $65,000 for bodies corporate. Higher penalties apply for serious contraventions of up to $130,000 for individuals and $650,000 for bodies corporate. An industrial inspector is also able to give a person a civil infringement notice, similar to an ‘on-the-spot fine’, for not complying with employment record-related requirements. Record keeping requirements are outlined in the Employment Records section of this summary.

Employees who believe that they have been underpaid, or who wish to make an anonymous report of wage theft, should visit the Making a complaint about underpayment of wages or entitlements page.

Deductions from pay

- An employer may only make a deduction from an employee's pay if:
 - the employer is required by a court or a state or federal law to make the deduction (e.g. tax that must be withheld from the employee's pay);
 - the employee has authorised the deduction in writing (as part of a written employment contract or otherwise) and the deduction is paid on behalf of the employee; or
 - the employer is authorised by the WA award to make the deduction and the deduction is paid on behalf of the employee.
- Deductions or requirements to pay an amount of money to the employer or another person in relation to an employee under the age of 18 are not permitted unless the deduction or payment is agreed to in writing by the employee's parent or guardian.
- A term of a WA award or employment contract providing for a deduction from an employee's pay will be of no effect if it is for the benefit of the employer or a party related to the employer and is unreasonable in the circumstances.
- An employer cannot directly or indirectly compel an employee to accept goods, accommodation or other services instead of money as part of the employee's pay.

Allowances

Meal money

An employee who is required to work overtime for 2 hours or more must be supplied with a reasonable meal by the employer or paid $7.64 for a first meal and $5.23 per meal if the amount of overtime worked necessitates a second or subsequent meal.

Leading hand allowance

A leading hand placed in charge of:

- not less than 3 and not more than 10 other employees $23.96 per week
- more than 10 and not more than 20 other employees $35.73 per week
- more than 20 other employees. $45.38 per week

Furniture carting allowance

An employee who is a recognised furniture carter working in removing and/or delivering furniture must be paid $12.58 per week.

Industry allowance

Employees employed in rock quarries and sand pits to compensate for dust and climatic conditions must be paid $19.95 per week.

Location allowance for employees in regional areas

- Employees employed in certain regional towns must be paid the weekly location allowance relevant to that town. Rates listed below are for adult employees working full time. Junior employees, casual employees, part time employees, apprentices and trainees must be paid proportionate location allowance based on the proportion which their weekly wage is to the adult rate under the WA award.
- If an employee has a dependent (a spouse or partner, or a child if there is no spouse or partner) the employee is entitled to receive double the allowance specified for the relevant town except if the dependent also receives a location or district allowance payment as part of their own employment.
- If an employee has a 'partial dependant' (a dependant who receives a district or location allowance of their own which is less than the location allowance the employee is entitled to under this award) the employee is entitled to receive:
 - the relevant location allowance for the employee's town; plus
 - an amount equal to the difference between the employee's location allowance and the amount their partial dependant receives in district or location allowance.
- If an employee receives free board and lodging, or is paid an allowance for board and lodging, the rate of location allowance is adjusted to 66.67% (two thirds) of the rate for the relevant town.

Location allowance rates effective from the first pay period on or after 1 July 2023

Distant work

An employee engaged on work from which they are unable to return to their home at night must be supplied with reasonable food and accommodation or must be paid for such personal expenses as they reasonably incur.

An employee engaged on work which requires them to sleep in or about their truck while travelling from one point to another or in the absence of suitable accommodation is obliged to live in a tent or hut must be paid an allowance of $14.31 per night.

Cash handling

Drivers who handle cash or cheques during any week or portion of a week as part of their duties and account for it must be paid an allowance as follows:

- For any amount handled up to $20 $0.98 per week
- Over $20 but not exceeding $200 $1.89 per week
- Over $200 but not exceeding $600 $3.39 per week
- Over $600 but not exceeding $1000 $4.74 per week
- Over $1000 but not exceeding $1200 $6.83 per week
- Over $1200 but not exceeding $1600 $9.77 per week
- Over $1600 but not exceeding $2000 $11.44 per week
- Over $2000 $13.04 per week

Other allowances

The Transport Workers (General) Award requires payment of a range of additional extra rates and allowance which apply in certain circumstances and/or when carting certain goods. Please view the Award on the WA Industrial Relations Commission website www.wairc.wa.gov.au for details.

Ordinary working hours, penalty rates and overtime – full time employees

- The ordinary hours for full time employees is as follows:
 - An average of 38 hours per week to be worked in one of the following arrangements:
 - 38 hours within a work cycle not exceeding seven consecutive days;
 - 76 hours within a work cycle not exceeding fourteen consecutive days;
 - 114 hours within a work cycle not exceeding twenty-one consecutive days; or
 - 152 hours within a work cycle not exceeding twenty-eight consecutive days.
 - Ordinary hours may be worked on any or all days of the week, Monday to Friday inclusive, between the hours of 6.00am and 6.30pm
 - Ordinary hours may not exceed 10 hours on any day.
- Any arrangement of ordinary working hours that exceeds 8 hours on any day must be subject to the agreement between the employer and the majority of employees in the plant or section or sections concerned.
- All ordinary time worked on Saturdays must be paid for at the rate of time and one half, and all ordinary time worked on Sundays must be paid for at the rate of double time. Note: only those employees working in the industries listed below (under the heading “Variation for particular industries”) may be rostered to work ordinary hours on Saturdays and Sundays.
- Employees employed on any shift Monday to Friday where the ordinary hours of duty include hours between 7.00pm and 7.00am must be paid an extra 15% for each shift.
- Variations for particular industries:
 - The ordinary hours of work for employees working in connection with the transportation of livestock; newspaper delivery; milk, cream, ice cream or dairy produce industries; pastry cooks' products; and ice-carting must not exceed 38 hours per week, or an average of 38 hours per week (in one of the hours arrangements listed above), to be worked in continuous shifts (except for meal breaks) on not more than 6 days of the week.
 - The ordinary hours of work for employees engaged in driving over distances in excess of 320 kilometres in a complete journey (but only in respect of that journey), must not exceed 38 hours per week, or an average of 38 hours per week (in one of the hours arrangements listed above), to be worked in continuous shifts (except for meal breaks) on not more than 6 days of the week.

Overtime

- All work performed outside of ordinary hours must be paid for at the rate of time and one half for the first 2 hours and double time thereafter.
- All overtime worked on Sunday and Saturday after 12 noon must be paid for at the rate of double time.
- Hours worked on a public holiday or substituted holiday must be paid at the rate of double time and a half and employees must receive a minimum of four hours pay.

Shift work

Specific rostering arrangements and allowances apply for employees working on a continuous shift basis. See clause 5.1 of the Transport Workers (General) Award on the WA Industrial Relations Commission website www.wairc.wa.gov.au for details.

Ordinary working hours, penalty rates and overtime - part time employees

- A part time employee is an employee required to work less than 38 ordinary hours per week.
- Part time employees receive the same wages and conditions as full time employees but on a proportionate basis to the hours they work.
- Before commencing part time employment, the employee and employer must agree upon the usual hours to be worked by the employee, the regular days upon which they will be worked and the expected commencing and finishing times.
- A part time employee must receive a minimum payment of 4 hours each day worked.
- A part time employee is entitled to be paid for the hours agreed upon, and additional hours to those may be worked by agreement. Part time employees may be offered additional work up to 38 hours per week at ordinary pay.
- All ordinary time worked on Saturdays must be paid for at the rate of time and one half, and all ordinary time worked on Sundays must be paid for at the rate of double time. Note: Under the award only employees working in particular industries are able to work ordinary hours on Saturdays and Sundays (refer to the information above regarding full time employees).
- Employees employed on any shift Monday to Friday where the ordinary hours of duty include hours between 7.00pm. and 7.00am must be paid an extra 15% for each shift.
- Overtime rates are to be paid after completing the number of ordinary hours for a full time employee on any one day or after 38 hours in any one week or outside the spread of ordinary hours as detailed above for full time employees.

Ordinary working hours, penalty rates and overtime - casual employees

- A casual employee is an employee who is employed on the basis that:
 - the employment is casual; and
 - there is no entitlement to paid leave, except bereavement leave.
- Casual employees must be informed of those conditions of employment before they are employed.
- While working ordinary hours a casual employee must be paid a casual loading of 24%. A minimum payment of 4 hours pay is to be paid.
- When casual employees are working overtime, or outside of ordinary hours, a separate formula is applied to calculate overtime payments. To calculate the rate of overtime, a 10% loading is added to the hourly rate of pay for a non-casual employee. The resulting amount then forms the casual employee's ordinary rate of pay to be used for overtime calculations (note: the 10% loading replaces the 24% casual loading for overtime purposes). For example, if overtime is being paid at time and one half, the calculation would be:

Casual overtime payment = (hourly rate of pay for non-casual employee + 10%) x 1.5

- A casual employee (other than an irregular casual employee*) who has been engaged for a period of 12 months is eligible to have their employment converted to full time or part time employment. For full details, refer to clause 2.5 of the Transport Workers (General) Award on the WA Industrial Relations Commission website www.wairc.wa.gov.au.

* an "irregular casual employee" is a casual employee who has been engaged to perform work on an occasional or non-systematic or irregular basis.

Meal breaks

- Every employee must be allowed each day a meal break of not less than 30 minutes or more than one hour, to commence at any time between the end of the third and end of the fifth hour of the day's employment.
- An employee whose meal break is postponed for more than half an hour must be paid at overtime rates until released for a meal.

Public holidays

- Full time employees are entitled to public holidays (or days substituted for public holidays) without deduction of pay. Part time employees are entitled to public holidays (or days substituted for public holidays) without deduction of pay if they would ordinarily be required to work on that day.
- Under this award, if a public holiday (except Easter Sunday) falls on a Saturday or Sunday, the following Monday will be considered to be the public holiday. However, if Boxing Day falls on a Sunday or Monday, the following Tuesday will be considered to be the public holiday. When a public holiday is substituted with another day, the public holiday itself is no longer considered a public holiday for the purposes of the award.
- The Easter Sunday public holiday is observed on the actual day, and it is not substituted to another day solely because it falls on a weekend. Employees required to work on Easter Sunday must be paid at public holiday penalty rates. Visit the Easter Sunday public holiday page for more information.
- Hours worked on a public holiday or substituted holiday must be paid at the rate of double time and a half and employees must receive a minimum of 4 hours pay.
- By agreement in writing between any employee and their employer work may be performed on any of the public holidays at time and a half in which case an additional day must be added to the annual Leave for each day so worked.
- Visit the Public Holidays in Western Australia page to view the public holiday dates.

Employment of children

- Under the Children and Community Services Act 2004, it is illegal to employ children under the age of 15 in this industry, except if the child is working as part of a school program (e.g. work experience placement) or in a family business.
- School aged children must not be employed during school hours unless participating in a school program.
- Visit the When children can work in Western Australia page for more information.

Leave entitlements

Quick reference guide

Leave entitlement	Full time	Part time	Casual
Annual leave	✓	✓	✗
Personal leave	✓	✓	✗
Unpaid personal leave for caring purposes	✓	✓	✓
Bereavement leave	✓	✓	✓
Unpaid parental leave	✓	✓	✓
Long service leave	✓	✓	✓
Unpaid family and domestic violence leave	✓	✓	✓

This WA award summary covers the basic leave entitlements for employees covered by the Transport Workers (General) Award but does not include all details on leave obligations and entitlements. Full details of conditions are contained in the Transport Workers (General) Award on the WA Industrial Relations Commission website www.wairc.wa.gov.au, the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993 and the Long Service Leave Act 1958.

Bereavement leave

- All employees, including casual employees, are entitled to two days paid bereavement leave on the death of a spouse, de facto partner, parent, step-parent, grandparent, child, step-child, grandchild, sibling or any other member of the employee's household. The 2 days need not be consecutive.
- Bereavement leave is an entitlement from the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993.

Annual leave

- Full time employees are entitled to a minimum of four weeks of paid annual leave for each year of completed service, up to 152 hours. Part time employees are entitled to a minimum of annual leave of four weeks per year paid on a pro rata basis according to the number of hours they are required ordinarily to work in a four week period. Casual employees are not entitled to annual leave.
- Annual leave is a minimum entitlement in the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993 and the Transport Workers (General) Award sets out additional requirements regarding annual leave and annual leave loading.
- During a period of annual leave an employee must be paid annual leave loading of 17.5%.
- On termination, annual leave loading of 17.5% is paid out on fully accrued annual leave entitlements for completed years of employment. Annual leave loading is not paid on proportionate leave (leave accrued in an incomplete year of employment) on termination.
- Annual leave accrues on a weekly basis:
 - A full time employee accrues 2.923 hours of annual leave for each completed week of work.
 - A part time employee accrues the relevant proportion of 2.923 hours annual leave for each completed week of service.
 - Wageline's Annual leave calculation guide can assist with calculating annual leave entitlements.
- Visit Wageline's Annual leave page for more information.

Parental leave

Employees, including eligible casual employees, are entitled to the unpaid parental leave entitlements in the National Employment Standards of the Fair Work Act 2009, as well as a number of more beneficial conditions contained in the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993 (a return to work after parental leave on a modified basis and a reversion to pre-parental leave working conditions). Visit the Parental leave page for more details.

Personal leave

- Personal leave entitles a full time or part time employee to paid time off work due to either illness or injury to themselves, or because they have to care for a member of their family or household who requires care or support because they are sick, injured or affected by an unexpected emergency.
- Each year, full time and part time employees accrue paid personal leave equal to the number of hours they would ordinarily work in a two week period, up to 76 hours per year. Personal leave is a cumulative entitlement, and any leave not taken in one year is carried over and able to be taken in future years.
- Paid personal leave accrues on a weekly basis for full and part time employees. Wageline's Personal leave calculation guide can assist with calculating paid personal leave entitlements.
- An employee, including a casual employee, is entitled to up to two days of unpaid personal leave per occasion when a member of the employee's family or household requires care or support because of a personal illness or injury or unexpected emergency affecting the member. A full time or part time employee cannot take unpaid personal leave for caring purposes if they have paid personal leave available.
- Casual employees are not entitled to paid personal leave. Casual employees can access up to two days of unpaid personal leave for caring purposes per occasion.
- Personal leave is a minimum entitlement from the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993.
- Visit Wageline's Personal leave page for definitions of 'member of the family or household' or for more information.

Family and domestic violence leave

- All employees are entitled to five days' unpaid family and domestic violence leave in each 12 month period. This leave is available in full at the start of each 12 month period of an employee's employment and does not accumulate from year to year. The five days' leave is available in full to part time and casual employees (i.e. it is not pro rata).
- An employee is able to take unpaid family and domestic violence leave if:
 - the employee is experiencing family and domestic violence; and
 - the employee needs to do something to deal with the impact of the family and domestic violence; and
 - it is impractical for the employee to do that thing outside the employee's ordinary hours of work.
- Leave can be taken in a single continuous five day period, separate periods of one or more days each, or periods of less than one day.
- Family and domestic violence leave is a minimum entitlement from the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993.
- Visit Wageline's Family and domestic violence leave page for more information.

Long service leave

- Long service leave is a paid leave entitlement for full time, part time and casual employees. Under the Long Service Leave Act 1958 (LSL Act), an employee may be eligible for long service leave:
 - after 10 years of continuous employment with the same employer, and for every 5 years of continuous employment after the initial 10 years; and
 - on a pro-rata basis when their employment ends after 7 years of continuous employment but before 10 years.
- The Long service leave pages of the Wageline website contain information on who is covered by the LSL Act, the entitlement to long service leave, how long service leave can be taken and frequently asked questions.
- To be entitled to long service leave an employee's employment with their employer must be continuous. There are some paid and unpaid absences or interruptions to an employee's employment that:
 - do not break an employee's continuous employment; and
 - count towards the employee's period of employment for the purposes of accruing long service leave.Some other types of absences do not break an employee's continuous employment, but do not count towards an employee's period of employment for the purposes of accruing long service leave. Visit the Long service leave – What is continuous employment page for details.
- An employee's employment may in some circumstances also be continuous despite a change in the ownership of a business and the associated change of employer. This applies regardless of anything written in a sale of business contract. Visit the Long service leave – What happens when business ownership changes? page for details.
- The WA long service leave calculator can provide an estimate of an employee's long service leave entitlement when employment ends as a result of resignation, dismissal, death or redundancy.

Resignation, termination and redundancy

Resignation by the employee

Full time and part time employees are to provide the same notice as required of the employer (outlined in the table above) except that there is no additional notice based on the age of the employee.

The employer and employee may agree to a shorter notice period to suit individual circumstances.

Termination

An employer must wherever practicable notify a casual employee if services are not required the next working day.

Except in cases of serious misconduct, an employer is required to give full time and part time employees the following period of notice of termination (or payment in lieu):

Period of continuous service	Notice period
Not more than 1 year	1 week
More than 1 year but not more than 3 years*	2 weeks
More than 3 years but not more than 5 years*	3 weeks
More than 5 years*	4 weeks

*Employees over 45 years of age with two or more years of continuous service must receive an additional week's notice.

Redundancy

An employee is redundant when their employer has made a definite decision that they no longer wish the job the employee has been doing to be done by anyone.

When an employee has been made redundant they are entitled to receive:

- the appropriate notice period or pay in lieu of notice, as in the termination section above;
- paid leave for job interviews;
- any unpaid wages;
- any unused accrued and pro rata annual leave;
- any unused accrued long service leave;
- pro rata long service leave (if applicable); and
- severance pay (if applicable).

Visit the Redundancy – General information page for information on redundancy obligations.

Severance pay – Employers who employ 15 or more employees

Employers covered by this award who employ 15 or more employees must pay severance pay when an employee is made redundant, as outlined in the table below.

Period of continuous service*	Number of weeks severance pay
Less than 1 year	Nil
1 year and less than 2 years	4 weeks
2 years and less than 3 years	6 weeks
3 years and less than 4 years	7 weeks
4 years and less than 5 years	8 weeks

*An employee's period of continuous service includes any service with that business under a previous employer where there has been a transmission of the business.

Employers who employ less than 15 employees are not required to make severance payments to redundant employees.

These severance pay requirements do not apply to probationary employees, apprentices and trainees, casual and contract employees or employees terminated due to serious misconduct or for other reasons not related to redundancy.

Redundancy pay is calculated based on the applicable number of weeks' severance multiplied by ordinary time earnings. Ordinary time earnings excludes overtime, penalty rates, and allowances.

If the employee resigns during the notice period, they are entitled to the same severance pay they would receive if they had worked until the end of the notice period. However, in this circumstance the employee is not entitled to payment in lieu of notice.

Visit the Redundancy payments page for more information on redundancy payments.

Dismissal requirements

Under state laws, employees cannot be dismissed if to do so would be harsh, unfair or oppressive. There must be a valid and fair reason for dismissal, such as:

- consistent unsatisfactory work performance (which has been raised with the employee and the employee given further training and an opportunity to improve their work performance);
- inappropriate behaviour or actions; or
- serious misconduct.

The Dismissal information page outlines obligations and requirements when an employee is terminated.

Pay slip and record keeping requirements

Employers must provide all employees with a pay slip, and must keep employment records as required by state employment law. There are penalties for not keeping records and not providing a pay slip.

Pay slips

Employers need to provide a pay slip to each employee within one working day of paying the employee for work performed. The employer can decide whether to give a hard copy or electronic form of the pay slip.

A pay slip needs to include the following information:

- the employer's name and Australian Business Number (if any);
- the employee's name;
- the period to which the pay slip relates;
- the date on which the payment referred to in the pay slip was made;
- the gross and net amounts of the payment, and any amount withheld as tax;
- any incentive based payment, or payment of a bonus, loading, penalty rates or another monetary allowance or separately identifiable entitlement;

- if an amount is deducted from the gross amount of the payment:
 - the name of the person in relation to whom or which the deduction was made;
 - if the deduction was paid into a fund or account - the name, or the name and number, of the fund or account; and
 - the purpose of the deduction;
- if the employee is paid at an hourly rate of pay:
 - the rate of pay for the employee's ordinary hours;
 - the number of hours worked during the period to which the pay slip relates; and
 - the amount of the payment made at that rate;
- if the employee is paid a weekly or an annual rate of pay - the rate as at the latest date to which the payment relates;
- if the employer is required to make superannuation contributions for the benefit of the employee:
 - the amount of each contribution that the employer made during the period to which the pay slip relates and the name, or the name and number, of any fund to which the contribution was made; or
 - the amounts of the contributions that the employer is liable to make in relation to the period to which the pay slip relates, and the name, or the name and number, of any fund to which the contributions will be made.

Employment records

Record keeping requirements

It is compulsory for all employers to keep employment records which include the following information:

- the employee's name and, if under 21 years of age, their date of birth;
- the employer's name and Australian Business Number (if any);
- the name of the WA award that applies (in this case the Transport Workers (General) Award);
- date the employee commenced employment with the employer;
- for each day of work:
 - the time at which the employee started and finished work;
 - period/s for which the employee was paid; and
 - details of work breaks including meal breaks;
- for each pay period:
 - the employee's designation (such as full time, part time, casual) and employee classification;
 - the gross and net amounts paid to the employee;
 - any amount withheld as tax; and
 - all deductions from pay and the reasons for them;
- any incentive based payment, bonus, loading, penalty rates or other monetary allowance or entitlement;
- all leave taken, whether paid, partly paid or unpaid;
- the following matters relating to superannuation:
 - the date on which each superannuation contribution was made, the amount of the contributions, the period over which the contributions were made, the name of any fund to which a contribution was made;
 - how the employer worked out the amount of superannuation owed; and
 - any choice made by the employee as to which fund their contributions are to be made and the date on which the choice was made;
- the information necessary for the calculation of and payment of long service leave under the LSL Act. Employers are also be required to comply with the record keeping requirements in the LSL Act. Visit www.dmirs.wa.gov.au/longserviceleave for details;
- any other information necessary to show that the pay and benefits received by the employee comply with the WA award and other legal obligations such as employee entitlements under the MCE Act or LSL Act; and
- any other information required by the WA award to be recorded.

It is also compulsory to keep employment records that detail specific information regarding:

- termination related matters; and
- any supported wage system or a supported wage industrial instrument provision that applies to an employee with a disability.

If an employer makes a payment to an employee in cash, the employer must provide a record of the payment to the employee and ensure that a copy of the record of payment is kept as an employment record.

Wageline's Employment records - Employer obligations page provides more information and record keeping templates to assist employers.

Time periods for keeping records

It is compulsory that each entry in relation to annual leave and long service leave must be retained during the employee's period of employment and for not less than 7 years after the employment ends and each other employment record must be retained for not less than 7 years after it is made.
