

ATTACHMENT A
Written Notice about Use of Tenancy Databases
Section 82C(2)

Residential tenancy databases are often used by lessors (landlords) and property managers to check an applicant's tenancy history and improve their chances of finding a reliable tenant.

Under the Residential Tenancies Act 1987, lessors and property managers must provide written notice to prospective tenants about the residential tenancy databases that they use.

The database/s we use are:

(insert name)

(insert database operator contact details)

(how to obtain information from the database operator)

(insert name)

(insert database operator contact details)

(how to obtain information from the database operator)

(insert name)

(insert database operator contact details)

(how to obtain information from the database operator)

(insert name)

(insert database operator contact details)

(how to obtain information from the database operator)

If we discover personal information about you on a tenancy database during the application process, we will advise you within 7 days of using the database.